

NEW YORK POST

‘Some Like it Hot’ meets ‘Breakfast at Tiffany’s’

December 17, 2012-

The District, a new American-style Irish gastro pub — think steak, hamburgers and shepherd’s pie — at Third Avenue at East 94th Street has just opened.

The 1,500 square-foot space, formerly an Indian restaurant, was renovated by designer Benjamin Kay of Adorn Designs into a Victorian bar vibe with industrial twist.

Four large antique mirrors are recessed on a paneled ceiling with more than 100 bulbs, and a large accent wall holds antique machine boxes and a 100-year-old stained glass window along with a 40-foot long bar in mahogany and steel. The 32-table restaurant’s centerpiece is a 40-foot long bar in mahogany and steel.